An Invitation to Participate

Invitation from the President

DR. STEVEN OWENS

Cardiology professionals have long faced challenging times in healthcare management with resiliency and innovation. The COVID-19 Pandemic has made this approach all the more imperative.

In that spirit, the Kansas Chapter of the American College of Cardiology will present the 7th Annual Cardiovascular Symposium on Saturday, October 10, 2020 in an innovative, digital platform! The meeting will again feature presenters who are leaders in the cardiology realm and will offer real world topics to conference attendees. Attendees include cardiologists, primary care physicians, fellows in training, nurses, nurse practitioners and physician assistants from surrounding areas.

Our virtual meeting platform will mirror a live meeting experience with an auditorium for speaker presentations, interactive panel discussions and a virtual Exhibition Hall. In accordance with ACCME guidelines, exhibits will be placed outside of the meeting room in an exhibition hall. This event's exhibition and marketing opportunities are open to a variety of commercial supporters (e.g. companies). The platform provides opportunities to have live chats with attendees, upload videos and brochures for inclusion in attendee's virtual swag bags. In addition, there is a gamification component that will incentivize attendees to visit all aspects of the virtual platform...education sessions, exhibitors and posters.

I ask for your continued support of the Kansas ACC Cardiovascular Symposium. We appreciate your longstanding support and would love to welcome you back virtually in 2020 as an exhibitor.

Very Sincerely,
Steven D. Owens, M.D., F.A.C.C.
KS-ACC Governor

Keynote Speaker

DR. RICHARD KOVACS

A graduate of the University of Chicago and the University of Cincinnati, School of Medicine, Dr. Kovacs completed an internship and residency at the Indiana University Medical Center. His fellowship training also was at Indiana University, where he served as chief fellow and chief medical resident.

He joined the full time faculty of the Indiana University School of Medicine in 1986 as Assistant Professor, subsequently serving as the medical director and CEO of Methodist Research Institute. Dr. Kovacs is a clinical cardiologist, and serves as the service line leader of Cardiology for Indiana University Health Physicians.

At the IU School of Medicine, Dr. Kovacs has served as the Associate Dean for Clinical Research and Associate Director of the Indiana Clinical and Translational Sciences Institute. He has served as the Chair of Institutional Review Board for the Biomedical Sciences and the Chair of the IRB Executive Committee.

He has served on the Joint ACC/AHA Taskforce on Practice Guidelines, the National Cardiovascular Data Registries Management Board, and the Cardiac Safety Research Consortium. He is a past member of the Board of Trustees for the American College of Cardiology, has chaired the ACC Board of Governors, served as Secretary of the ACC, Vice President and President of the ACC.

His research focuses on three clinical topics: quality and measurement of quality, drug safety and sports cardiology. He has published extensively on the pro-arrhythmic effects of non-antiarrhythmic drugs.

Dr. Kovacs was a co-chair of the committee that revised the AHA/ACC Eligibility and Disqualification Recommendations for Competitive Athletes with Cardiovascular Abnormalities. He has served on many ACC committees, Chairing the Science and Quality Committee. He is a member of the ACC Sports and Cardiology Section and oversees the cardiovascular evaluations of players at the Annual National Football League Scouting Combine in Indianapolis.

Continuing Education Credit Information

Objectives

Electrophysiology:

- Understand the role of arrhythmia management in end-stage heart failure
- Understand the risks/benefits of his-bundle pacing
- Describe the impact of arrhythmias in cardiac sarcoid

Sports Cardiology:

- Identify key issues related to cardiovascular health in athletes

Heart Failure/Imaging:

- Understand the mechanisms of cardio-renal syndrome.
- Describe the role of CT-FFR in the evaluation of chest pain/acute coronary syndromes.
- Describe and understand the care of a individual with concomitant cardiovascular and oncologic diseases.
- Understand the pathophysiology of aortic stenosis and nuances of imaging.

Interventional Cardiology:

- Describe the role of complex high risk PCI in the modern cath lab.
- Understand the evaluation and treatment of venous disease.
- Understand the options for the surgical treatment of end-stage heart failure

General Cardiology:

- Understand the management of patients with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy
- Describe common cardiovascular medication side effects/interactions.
- Discuss the update on major trials of 2019-2020

Continuing Education

All attendees are required to sign rosters at the beginning of each day. A certificate of completion will be provided to participants based on completion of the program evaluation, documentation of actual attendance time, and payment in full.
