An Invitation to Participate

Invitation from the President

DR. RAJENDRAN
SABAPATHY

As clinicians and ACC members, we remain committed to learning, adapting and innovating to further our work of fulfilling the ACC mission to transform cardiovascular care and improve heart health. Cardiology professionals continue to meet challenging times with resiliency and innovation each and every day.

To do so, we balance innovation with tried and true patient and self-care practices based on a solid clinical foundation.

In that spirit, the Kansas Chapter of the American College of Cardiology will present the 9th Annual Cardiovascular Symposium on Saturday, October 1, 2022!

Speaker presentations and interactive panel discussions will feature the latest science in the treatment of cardiovascular diseases across the care spectrum of electrophysiology, heart failure, interventional and general cardiology.

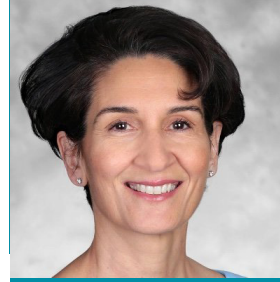

We appreciate your continued support of the Kansas ACC Cardiovascular Symposium. We look forward to your participation!

Very Sincerely,
Rajendran Sabapathy, M.D., F.A.C.C., F.S.C.A.I., R.P.V.I.
KS-ACC Governor

About the Symposium

Cardiology professionals are facing challenging times in healthcare management with growing educational needs as the field continues to advance. The Kansas Chapter of the American College of Cardiology presents the 9th Annual Cardiovascular Symposium on Saturday, October 1, 2022. This premier educational event will provide updates in cardiovascular medicine by leading experts in their field. The presenters are leaders in the cardiology realm and will discuss real world topics. Attendees will include cardiologists, primary care physicians, fellows in training, nurses, nurse practitioners and physician assistants from surrounding areas.

Keynote Speaker

DR. ATHENA POPPAS

Athena Poppas, M.D., M.A.C.C., F.A.S.E. was the 2020-2021 President of the American College of Cardiology. Her term began at the close of the 2020 ACC Annual Scientific Session Together with World Congress of Cardiology held virtually in March 2020 due to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Poppas has been a long-standing leader of the College throughout her more than 20 years of membership. She previously served as president of the Rhode Island chapter, holding a seat on the ACC Board of Governors. She also served as Annual Scientific Session chair for ACC.15 where she led the scientific program planning for the conference's 13,000 professional attendees.

Poppas began serving as a member of the ACC Board of Trustees in 2010. As a member of the Governance Committee, she helped spearhead the restructuring of the ACC's governance structure and process to ensure the ability of the College to be nimble, strategic, accountable and inclusive of the diverse needs of the global cardiovascular community. She's also held positions on the Cardiometabolic Strategic Work Group, Clinical Quality Committee and Women in Cardiology Council.

Poppas is a professor of medicine at The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University and chief of cardiology and director of the Lifespan Cardiovascular Institute at Rhode Island, The Miriam and Newport hospitals.

She received a Bachelor of Science from Brown University and a Doctor of Medicine from the University of Wisconsin Medical School. Poppas completed her residencies in internal medicine at University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics and in cardiovascular medicine at University of Chicago Hospitals.

Poppas specializes in valvular heart disease, heart disease in women, and echocardiography and heart disease in pregnancy and focuses her research on echocardiography and heart disease in women and the elderly.

Continuing Education Credit Information

Objectives

Electrophysiology:

- Evaluate and understand the role of cardiac wearables in the management of atrial fibrillation.
- Describe the role of cardiac resynchronization therapy in management of atrial fibrillation.
- Discuss the potential outcomes of ablation in patients with myocarditis.
- Evaluate and understand interesting EKGs.

General Cardiology:

- Recognize the intervention options for clinician and patient well-being.
- Discuss effective management of lipids in patients with cardiovascular disease.
- Discuss effective management of complex PCI.
- Discuss effective management of aortic disease.
- Recognize the options for complex transitions of care in a rural setting.

Heart Failure:

- Discuss new heart failure treatment options.
- Discuss effective management of cardiogenic shock.
- Recognize the options for chest pain evaluation in the emergency room.

FIT Jeopardy:

- Recognize the appropriate cardiovascular disease states and interventions.

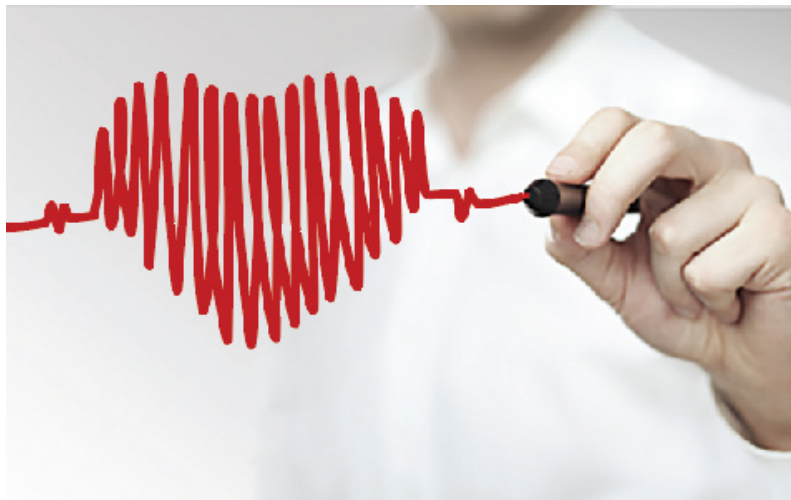

Continuing Education

All attendees are required to sign rosters at the beginning of each day. A certificate of completion will be provided to participants based on completion of the program evaluation, documentation of actual attendance time, and payment in full.

Physicians: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the essential areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint providership of the University of Kansas Medical Center Office of Continuing Medical Education and Kansas Chapter of the American College of Cardiology. The University of Kansas Medical Center Office of Continuing Medical Education is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

APRN/RN: The University of Kansas Medical Center Area Health Education Center East is approved as a provider of CNE by the Kansas State Board of Nursing. This course offering is approved for 5.0 contact hours applicable for APRN and RN relicensure. Kansas State Board of Nursing provider number: LT0056-0749. Mary Beth Warren, MS, RN, Coordinator.

Nursing attendance requirement: The conference is in 5 sections: Keynote, Electrophysiology Session, General Cardiology Session, Heart Failure Session, and Fellows In Training Jeopardy Session. All presentations within an individual section must be attended in their entirety to claim credit for the section. Credit will be awarded based upon documented attendance.
